L&T Wins The Economic Times 'Company of the Year Award - 2010'

Finance Minister, Mr. Pranab Mukherjee
Presents Coveted Award to Mr. A.M. Naik

Union Finance Minister, Mr. Pranab Mukherjee presented L&T, The Economic Times 'Company of the Year Award - 2010' at a function in Mumbai attended by the elite of business and industry, leading political figures including Mr. Jairam Ramesh, Environment Minister, Mr. Kapil Sibal, HRD & Telecom Minister, Mr.

Salman Kurshid, Corporate Affairs Minister, Mr. Prithviraj Chavan, Chief Minister of Maharashtra, and other celebrities. The award was received on behalf of L&T by Mr. A.M. Naik, our Chairman & Managing Director.

The Economic Times is India's largest selling business daily, recognised internationally for its reach and coverage, and the awards that the newspaper presents annually are among the most coveted in Indian industry. L&T was the overwhelming choice of the jury due to its achievements on several fronts.

The Award Jury had cited that L&T "has been involved in almost all of India's prestigious engineering creations, including roads, power plants, buildings, bridges, ports and nuclear reactors." Describing L&T as "the bellwether of India's engineering sector", The Economic Times said the company has just completed a five-year programme of restructuring its operations and is well poised to take advantage of the opportunities that lie ahead.

With this award, L&T has been voted 'Company of the Year' by India's two most reputed business dailies. It had won the Business Standard 'Company of the Year' award in 2010.
